Opportunities for Indigenous engagement in Emergency Management Sector

NAFM, 3 April 2019

Project leader: Prof Jeremy Russell-Smith
Researchers: Dr Andrew Edwards and Dr Kamaljit K Sangha
NTES, NTFRS & Bushfires NT, and Indigenous Ranger Group consultations

- Agencies - selecting communities
- Pilot survey with Waanyi Garawa rangers in Borroloola
- Tjuwanapa women rangers in and Warlpiri rangers
A joint platform to manage natural hazards in remote locations

Management Interface
- Recognition and integration of local knowledge and skills
- Effective relationships with the community members
- Part-/full-time job opportunities...

Socio-cultural landscape

Natural landscape and related biophysical processes

Collaborative EM policy planning and management

Organisational and Institutional systems
Organisations: NTPFES, NTFRS, NTES and Bushfire NT
- Coordination and cooperation
- Active and incentivized engagement of locals in EM
Scenario Planning workshops and activities...

- SP workshops with the rangers from top-end remote communities

- A detailed total economic assessment of Natural Disasters (incl. social and environmental costs) in the NT to support our SP exercises

  - NDRRA (category A&B) expenses are $22m/yr (2010-18) + other costs

  - Daly river (NDRRA+NTES) $4m in 2017-18 (flooding & monsoonal trough)